In this section, Khabbar looks into the Konkani community and anything and everything that is Konkani from a Konkani point of view. The names will never be published but geographic location will be identified in general terms.

There is no doubt in my mind that Khabbar is a part & parcel of life of Konkanis in North America. In fact, Khabbar has developed a special relation with most of the Konkani families and here are some examples of those close encounters of a different kind.....

Publishing the last year's newsletter, Khabbar (Vol. XXXV-4, Oct, Nov, Dec - 2012) was a humongous task. Since the whole Khabbar team was out of town for close to two months, publishing that issue of Khabbar was a challenge. The team rose up to the occasion and was able to publish Khabbar on time (like every time). But, I must admit there were some goofs and I think nobody noticed them!?! I was so confident about that, I mentioned that in the last issue of Khabbar claiming nobody really reads Khabbar!.

Long behold, I get a call from this family from Houston, TX who went thru every page of that issue of Khabbar and pointed out each and every mistake! To his credit, he is right!!

Still, the question is do people really read Khabbar?

EDITORIAL

Dear Konkani family,
I hope all is well with you and your family.

This issue of Khabbar has been mailed to ALL families that have paid dues at least once since 2011. In other words, families who have not paid since 2010 will not be receiving this issue. The numbers on the mailing label clearly indicate the year/s the dues for Khabbar has been received since 2011 and if there is any error let me know.

Even in these tough economic times, the Advisory Committee of Khabbar has decided that the annual dues will remain the same at $15.00 a year and for that you get:

- Four issues of the Khabbar,
- Annual Mailing List and
- Discounted advertisement rates.

This issue has not been mailed to families that have specifically indicated that they will access eKhabbar. The on-line version of Khabbar, eKhabbar, will be on the web a quarter after mailing the hard copies.

Please, note it is time to renew your subscription for 2013. The Khabbar Mailing List is a prized possession of our community and helps me to keep it up-to-date. Send names and addresses of Konkani families that are not in the list to P. O. Box 222, Lake Jackson, TX 77566-0222, or email khabbar@hotmail.com and rest be assured that I'll "Khabbarize" them!

The youth are planning Konkani Youth Convention in LA area during August 2-4, 2013. Please, help our youngsters who are trying hard to maintain our culture here in North America.

The newly re-organized North American Konkani Association (NAKA) is already busy in making progress. Please note that this is an interim Board who are making every effort to make a NAKA a viable organization in North America. Khabbar will publish all the developments and progress made by NAKA on an on-going basis.

Khabbar will also publish progress made by Konkani Charitable Fund (KCF) on a regular basis. The most respected Konkani couple in America, Dr. Gopal & Pratibha Bhandarkar have joined this Board. The team KCF needs all our support to help our folks anywhere in the world.

The unofficial Khabbar correspondents in your area who send in the hoon Khabbars on a regular basis are doing an outstanding job. Remember, if it did not appear in Khabbar, then it did not happen in North America! If your area is not represented wholly, let me know and I'll recruit more volunteers. You can send the news items via email (khabbar@hotmail.com).

On the Quiz front, Khabbar has still remained as a champ. What a pity, only five people were able to solve last quarter's quiz! Let us see how you will do with this quarter's quiz.

The progress of the ambitious project, Konkani Kendra, the Konkani Bhas Ani Sanskriti Pratistan is good. Thanks to Basti Ganapathi Shenoy who has devised a method wherein families wanting to help Konkani Bhas Ani Sanskriti Pratistan can do so with relative ease! Call him at (702)-341-6706 or email: bastishenoy@gmail.com if interested to extend your help for this worthy cause. Indeed, the Kendra has become a center of attraction and I urge all North American Konkani to visit the Kendra to see what way they can benefit from this. Also, see in what way we can help our brethren who are doing an outstanding job in preserving our culture.

Khabbar will always publish appeals for charity free of charge but cannot collect money on behalf of any charity. Families are encouraged to send the money directly to the concerned charities or thru KCF if approved by KCF. Khabbar firmly believes in helping our people whether it is in India or here. Here's a link to all the appeals I gotten so far:

I hope the struggle to rid terrorism from this world will materialize soon. Hope Peace & Tranquility will prevail.

KONKANI HAPPENINGS

Konkani Association of Northern California (KAOCA):

This year, KAOCA has had several entertaining and unforgettable experiences that have brought our Bay area Konkani community together in different ways. In the beginning half of this year, we have had 5 programs. Here are our events and an account of what we did this year in 2013 so far:

Karaoke Evening with Voluntary Food Drive

Our first event this year was the Karaoke Evening with Voluntary Food Drive, held on Sunday, March 10th, 2013, at the Centerville Community Center, where many community members came together to sing and enjoy music. We had several performances, old and new songs, English and Hindi, and amateur and expert: 25 songs were sung by 26 members and we were amazed by the singing talents in the KAOCA community. We added a twist by having food drive boxes for the Second Harvest Food Bank, getting a lot of food and cash to donate to the service. As an opening event, we really enjoyed our time and got to know some of our new community members.

Youth Interaction Day:

We started a new program this year—Youth Interaction Day. Our first meeting was on Sunday, April 14th and we got teenagers and some younger kids to prepare brunch. Pancakes, hash browns, scrambled eggs, lemonade, and fruits were prepared by the kids with little parental guidance. Though many parents were nervous about letting the kids handle the cooking, the end results were great. After this, the kids went outside to play a game of Ultimate Frisbee “street-style”. At the end, the children discussed their goals for the future and decided to meet again. The next youth interaction meeting is scheduled to happen in July.

KAOCA Yugadi Event:

We had our annual Yugadi Program, on April 27th at Woodside High School Performing Arts Center, Woodside, CA. The response was overwhelming with more than 425 members attending this event.

This year, our entertainment theme was “Sammilan: Unity in Diversity”. We started the entertainment program with a Classical Dance medley of Bharatnatyam and Kathak. Then, we had a series of dances scattered throughout representing different parts of India. The boys performed a Maharashtra fisherman dance and a Bhangra dance. On the other hand, the girls danced a Goan dance to the song “Ya ya Mayaya”, a Bengali dance, and a Kannada Kolata dance. Our women also performed, with the Kerala Onam dance, and a Rajastani dance. There were also two movie song dances: “Masha Allah” and “Disco Diwaani”. We had several other exciting performances such as a teen band with Omkar Shanbag, Medha Acharya, Nikhil Prabhu, Anirudh Pai, Mihika Gokarn, and Nihal Prabhu, performing several top hit English songs. Several singers performed songs both old and new, while KAOCA dancers dancing to some of these tunes. Singing bhajans with piano and tabla background, KAOCA children enlivened our ears. KAOCA men had a “Nagarbajjan” session, with them coming from the audience onto the stage. The highlight of the night was at the end, when we had a Fancy Dress Exhibition by the little ones. At this time, to the song ‘Vande Mataram’, we had a flash mob where all the performers came from the audience onto the stage dancing. Overall, we had an amazing 90 performers this event, the most performers we’ve had yet!

As usual, we had our tannik at the start of the event, and had Konkani delicacies such as karathe nonche, kultha koddal, and ambe upkari at dinner. All these traditional Konkani items were cooked by our food committee members and volunteers. During the dinner, we introduced our new KAOCA members to all by letting them give an introductory speech to the community. To finish off the event, we had a massive DJ dancing session where we all got up and showed off our moves to celebrate our time together that night!

Community Volunteering at City Team Ministries:

As part of KAOCA, we do Community Volunteer Service at various locations. On May 18th, Teens and adults alike went to the City Team Ministries’ Men’s Recovery Kitchen to prepare food to be served to the less fortunate. We chopped fruit, made tortillas, and diced other ingredients to help make meals for the 500 people and then served the dinner.

Sports Day, Karaoke and Food Extravaganza:

After this, we had our Annual Sports Day, on June 1st. We had a dual event: table tennis and badminton at the California Badminton Academy, and other indoor sports at the Warm Springs Community Center. We had traditional games such as carrom, cards, and chess, and also modern games like Musical Chairs, and Wii Sports. The atmosphere was competitive, yet social, and all participants enjoyed the tournaments we set up. KAOCA chefs had a cooking competition by preparing 17 dishes for the dinner, and the winners, Chicken Sukka and Khichidi, were voted on by the community. We had Karaoke and Bingo at the end of the day, and throughout, the kids were playing in the park and the lawns, thoroughly enjoying their time together.

So far, KAOCA has had a memorable half year. We have welcomed many new families and brought together family and friends to have a lot of fun, fulfilling our theme of “Family-Friendship-Fun”. Looking forward to the next half of the year, we prepare for our annual Picnic, Diwali program, and more to come.

Houston Area Amchigale Samaj (HAAS) Picnic:

The HAAS 2013 Spring Picnic on April 27, 2013 at Lost Creek Park, Sugar Land was a wonderful and enjoyable event. It was a bright, cool and very enjoyable weather in the morning. For the early comers, there was hot tea, juice, fresh bananas, oranges and muffins for snacking.

By about 10:30 am most of the kids had arrived and games were started off by Aparna and Anand Nayak. Kids were very excited and had a great time participating in the sports. Adults too did a great job. These games got everyone warmed up in the beautiful sunshine on a really cool and pleasant day.

The men and some ladies then decided to play a game of Cricket. Kids took up badminton and enjoyed the playing. Many of the ladies then formed a group and went for a long walk to the other side of the lovely park trail. Kids were free to play in the playground, or to get their faces and hands painted with cute motifs. This kept everyone busy till noon, when the eagerly awaited lunch arrived. Lunch was a typical ‘picnic menu’ consisting of Pizza (Cheese pizza and Vegetable pizza) for everybody, Vegetable Biryani, ice cream, variety of Fruits and delicious cookies prepared by Maya Prabhu.

The clouds were seen all over the sky. Windy weather and few showers brought an end to the wonderful day, when all began to disperse. All went home with happy memories of the fun filled day.

Thanks to the wonderful HAAS members who helped to make this event a grand success and a fun filled event. Thanks to Gayathri and Narendra Rao for keeping everyone well informed and entertained during the whole picnic, Praba Mallya for help in setting up face painting, Chaya and Madhav Ubhayakar for helping set up and plan the games, Amrita Shenoy our new youth member who helped /assisted in registration and welcome desk.

Keep it up, HAAS members and we hope to have more participation from now on!! Thanks also to all who helped to set up and clean, and transport food. With help of all members, the event was a great success.

Mother's day Celebrations:

HAAS Houston Area Amchigale Samaj (HAAS) celebrated Mother's day on Sunday May 12, 2013 at the residence of Drs Ramakrishna & Maya Prabhu in Houston, TX. Amulpacci honors Indian senior graduating class:

The matriarch of the Konkani community, Smt. Radha Golikeri, or Amulpaacchi as she is very fondly called by all Texans, organized a wonderful program through the Senior Club of India, Clear Lake, honoring the senior graduating class of 2013 at Moghul's Indian Restaurant in Clear Lake on June 1st, 2013.

The late Mr. Sanjeeva Rao Allam of Moghul's restaurant in Clear Lake was instrumental in starting this tradition of honoring the high-school graduates of Indian origin in 1998. In its 16th year now, his son Ram, has continued the tradition by subsidizing the luncheon. With financial support from the local Indo-American community this program has now become an annual event that all graduates eagerly look forward to. So far, 625 graduates have been felicitated of which 15 have been valedictorians. The India Culture Center of Clear Lake and the Indian Seniors Association of Clear Lake co-sponsor the event each year under Amulpaacchi's leadership.

The program started with 11-yr old Adarsh Suresh beautifully singing both the Indian and American National Anthems. Amulpaacchi then welcomed all the guests asking them to collectively acknowledge all the efforts of the graduates to get to this point in their lives and advised the graduates to applaud and always remember all the hard work and efforts put in by their parents, grandparents and teachers in nurturing them and bringing them up. "Live well, progress well, and earn a good name for yourself, your family and your Indian heritage". She quoted George Bernand Shaw - "What has in store for you depends on what you place in store for the future".

She then invited Sonal Bhatt, the President of the ICC-CL and Pankaj Dhume, President of the Indo-American Chamber of Commerce of Greater Houston to share their thoughts. Ms. Bhatt's advice was "Never say never" and "Work hard for success". Pankaj Dhume, as the key note speaker, advised the new graduates to keep 5 guiding principles in mind: to invest their time wisely, invest in their dreams and passion, choose and invest in their friends, invest in mental and physical health and most of all invest in having fun in life. "The end goal should be the pursuit of happiness and the money will follow", he said.

Shakuntala Malhotra, the author of the popular Mama's Punjabi recipes in Indo-American Newspaper, then handed out awards to all the graduates as Amulpaacchi called them to the stage.

The class of 2013 had 45 graduates present of which two Konkani graduates were felicitated- Gaurav Dhume and Sheila Prabhu. Moghul's outdid themselves with a sumptuous lunch buffet that all the guests enjoyed thoroughly

I had asked Dr. Devdutt Nagarkar of Sugar Land, TX, to send me an enlightened saying from Sathya Sai Center and here's that discourse:

Q: What is the best way to draw large installments of Grace as returns?

Bhagawan explains:

Unless you deposit an amount in the Bank, how will the Bank honour a cheque you issue? So too, ask yourself: 'Have I deposited enough devotion to the Lord, service to my fellow-beings and faith in my spiritual practices?' If you do, then you will most certainly draw the Grace of the Lord. Always remember and be sure that you will get as much Grace, in proportion to your perseverance to attain the Lord. The Supreme Divine has and will yield many benefits to you, that you cannot deny. I bless you that you may grow more and more in devotion to the Lord, in whatever Name and Form you choose and I wish you earn the Lord's Grace to a very large extent.

- Divine Discourse, Mar 13 1964.

AMKA UGADI 2013

The Ugadi 2013 event of the American Midwest Konkani Association (AMKA) was held at the Hindu Temple of Aurora on April 6th 2013. The event was a major success with over 160 folks attending. The President, Sanjay Savkur, thanked folks for coming & also briefed the members of the plans for 2013.

The committee members were there early to do the set up & welcome folks who started arriving at 3:30pm for registering & Panchadika. While folks were enjoying some south Indian snacks they had a chance to browse the Fund-raiser tables where a Silent Auction was set up along with some Khaan flown in directly from Mangalore & delicacies made by some excellent cooks from our own members.

The evening started at 4:30pm with an Aarti and prayers and followed by a Ganesh Stotra, a Devotional song and Hindustani Classical music.

The entertainment consisted of our youngest member participating in a group dance, a tabla recital, some Bollywood thumkes and the Karaoke reliving Yash-Raj songs. There was a comedy play and the finale with the Sari Salsa, where different styles of wearing a sari were modeled.

With such a long list of entertainment, it left just enough time for folks to have some lovely 'made to order' dinner & meet up with folks & of course the difficult part of cleaning & clearing out of the hall.

Amgele Tumgele Basement Group

Konkanis in and around Chicagoland area have started an amateur theater Group called “Amgele Tumgele Basement Group”.

ABTG's goal is to nurture and promote creative talent within the Konkani community.

It is meant for like-minded people interested in performing arts such as drama, singing, dancing, poetry and instrumental music. It also endeavors to generate a bank of ideas for performances at AMKA and other Konkani events.

We will meet once a month in any of our members' basement to exchange ideas, perform items and also have knowledge-sharing sessions about any area of the performing arts which the members are interested in. We will invite ideas from our members about what kind of items can be performed. It will not be limited to what a select few will decide. It will be an open session for all members.

Our first meeting, to crystallize our thoughts and give the subsequent sessions a structure, will be on Saturday, June 22nd, 2013 from 3 pm to 5 pm at Sanjay and Sucheta Savkur's residence. We have invited all Konkanis in the Chicagoland area to attend this and formative meeting, as their suggestions, inputs and future active participation will give this Group a proper structure and charter of objectives.

Book Review

By: - Vasanth Bhat, Honorary Editor, Khabbar

Book Title: Journey of a Konkani Family (Eka Konkani Kutumba Pravasu) by Mulki R. Bhat

Publishers: Ajjalkani Books.

Pages: 634.

Price: $ 34.95 + mailing charges (Free mailing if ordered by June, 30, 2013)

Rating: A must read for every Konkani in North America

Reading the book should bring to every Konkani in North America how life was in Dakshina Kannada in the late 1800's and early 1900's. Dr. Bhat's experience in North America is also quite unique but pretty much common to most of the early Konkani immigrants.

The book covers life stories of four generations. It is very interesting to note how life was in the olden days. The author composed his parents and grandparents recollections and was able to narrate their stories in a fluid manner. It is remarkable to note that humanity survives against all odds. You will be able to explore the life styles of the bygone eras of Konkani. No detail is insignificant or irrelevant. In few cases the author was quite frank about the mistreatment of women in Hindu society.

The author narrates how he ended up in the West. His experience of American life in 1950's is remarkable.

As a bonus, the author also highlights the travel done by him and his wife after his retirement. That itself should give readers an idea of "What to do" when we retire. It will also help us in planning our trip to visit these countries. All the details of his trip to various countries are well documented.

Adding to the story of his ancestors, the author includes Hindu philosophy. Also included is the story of how Konkani were fleeing Portuguese occupation of Goa. This also reflects the amount of research and study done to publish his findings. No wonder it took him over 12 years to publish this book.

The author also publishes a guide to Konkani and Sanskrit pronunciation.

A remarkable book- must read for any Konkani, anywhere.

Eulogy

By: - Janna and Padma, Langley BC, Canada, April,2013

My Dear Duttamam:

Padma and I, are sad to learn of Shantha-mai passing away. On our visit with you, we were sad to see Shantha-mai frail and her health was in a delicate form, we feared and anticipated that she may be at the end of her "life Journey". Thus hearing the sad news was not a sudden shock yet her passing away and the very thought that she is no more provokes recurring sadness. We take refuge in recalling fond memories of her life with you and amongst us.

I have admired both of you as a model-couple from the very first meeting. During my Rome layovers, you took me to your home in Ostia and Shantha welcomed me as a younger brother. I have fond memories of us going out shopping in Ostia and Rome, wine & Pizza @ Pyramide, pick-nick in Civitavecchia and dinner parties @ UN IFAO friend's home. All this on top of home cooked meals and comfort! There is much more in my memory bank.

Wherever you were stationed, your home was "India House" to all the Konkani community as well to Air India staff. Shantha-mai is known and well-remembered for her gracious hospitality. In later years, Padma & I came to you in Jamaica NY, and the tradition of Open Welcome continued.

You have 60+ years of a very happy married life with your loving partner Shantha-mai. Together, you have traveled the globe by air and rail, sailed the seas on many memorable cruises. We fondly recall your pre cruise stay with us. You have made Shantha-mai "Happy Bride" all her life with you.

Shantha-mai was a well-educated, cultured and accomplished person and a beautiful woman to top it. She had varied interest in many fields. She blended well into western cultures while keeping Konkani traditions and values. She was an 'entrepreneur' and founder of Jewellery Business. She was generous in sharing this expertise with friends. She was a gourmet cook. She introduced me to 'soy beans' and its imitating coconut masala. She was into 'arts & crafts'. Padma and I, admired her versatility.

Sadly, each of us, as the saying goes, "born to die". None has the control on the length and longevity of each of our life -journey. Thus some make the very best and leave behind Good Memories. Shantha-mai has indeed succeeded to do that.

Dutta-mam, we share your loss & sorrow and comfort you to cherish the "Fond Memories". Time alone can reconcile you with the parting of your beloved Shantha. Meanwhile take care of yourself and stay healthy and keep your magnanimous personality.

We Love you and please accept our condolences.

In Conversation With Pankaj Dhume

By: Kalyani Giri (As appeared in the Hum Magazine March 2013 issue)

I'm visiting with Pankaj and Asha Dhume at their home in Avalon, a community within the sprawling metropolis of Sugar Land. It's a place of grace and tranquility. A tall lone Buddha statue stands sentry between a curvy loveseat and a sumptuous sofa teeming with opulent puffy cushions. Veritably a treasure of a conversation piece is an exquisite coffee table that holds elegant court in the center of the room; it's a life-sized reclining figure of a beautiful Indian tribal woman articulated in fiberglass, her delicate bone structure so masterfully described that I almost expect her to set aside the glass-top and stand, ankle bells musically ajingle. A wall of gleaming windows framed by burnished bronze curtains proffers a panoramic view of the patio and swimming pool, and beyond, a lake mottled by the shadows of an early gathering dusk.

I'm here to talk with Pankaj, the reigning President of the Indo American Chamber of Commerce Greater Houston (IACCGH) 2013 about the Chamber and his aspirations for the year ahead. Pankaj also holds the prolific designation as the Vice President of Global Corporate Services at BMC Software Inc, a company he's worked for since 1998. I had cautioned the Dhumes that I'd be bringing a photographer along and requested Asha to be present during the interview. Asha is resplendent in a gold-accented violet and magenta silk saree, while Pankaj's shirt finds dapper echo in violet. The couple wed in 1991; theirs' was a marriage arranged by their families and the nuptials took place fifteen days after their first meeting. Pankaj jokingly hastens to add that thereafter, it was a love match. Indubitably, they are soulmates in a relationship forged on bedrock of friendship and respect, and Pankaj admits that Asha's unswerving loyalty and support are pivotal to his success. They are proud parents to Mahima, a student at Rice University and a talented artist, and Gaurav, a senior at The Village High School.

Asha, the consummate hostess, ignores my protests and hastens to the kitchen to return with a laden tray that somewhat resembles an English/Indian high tea. It's a lovely and informal evening with the Dhumes. They've led interesting lives. Pankaj turns out to be a witty raconteur who regales us with anecdotes of both harrowing and hilarious circumstances, while Asha interjects softly now and then only to jog his memory about a name, date, or an incident. When the conversation veers towards the IACCGH, Pankaj is contemplative, confident and goal-oriented.

Background

Pankaj Dhume was born in Mumbai, India. His parents were originally from Karwar, a Konkani-speaking enclave 100 miles south of Goa. He grew up speaking Marathi, Hindi, and English. He attended the Elphinstone College and secured a Bachelors Degree in Mathematics and statistics. An avid sportsman, he played amateur and professional badminton. His first job was as a management trainee at Mahindra & Mahindra. After two years, Pankaj left India for the USA, where he earned a Masters Degree in Public Administration at the Kentucky State University in Frankfort, Kentucky, and a second Masters Degree in Computer Science from the University of Massachusetts. He worked as a computer engineer in Boston for four years. After their marriage, Asha joined him, and their children were born in Massachusetts.

BMC and the IACCGH Connection

The Dhumes moved their young family to Houston, Texas, in 1998 when BMC Software acquired the company Pankaj worked at in Massachusetts. He joined IACCGH in 1999. In 2001, Robert "Bob" Beauchamp (now CEO of BMC), hand-selected him to start BMC's first office in India. Pankaj chose Pune in Maharashtra. He signed for the mission for two years, but at the end of it, he was asked to stay on longer. By then, BMC had 300 local Indians working in the company.

"The big challenge initially was learning how to navigate in India, and I learnt invaluable lessons on how to succeed in that environment," says Pankaj of the differences between the USA and India. For several years, the family vacillated between India and Houston, spending much time in both places before moving back to this city permanently in 2010 when Mahima graduated from the 12th grade and received acceptance at Rice University.

On Steering IACCGH in 2013

How did you get involved in the IACCGH?

I was invited to join the Board in 1999 by the founders Durga Agrawal and Ashoke Nath. Later, while I was in India I served as Director at Large to the Houston Chamber. I also joined the local Chamber in India and started dialogue with Jagdip Ahluwalia, one of the founding members of IACCGH, to facilitate education links between India and the US. The Chamber was started with the intent to encourage trade between the US and India. Now we have an added focus to promote business among people in this city, a sort of cross-pollination.

What is your vision for your year in office and how do you hope to implement your goals?

My vision is a thriving Chamber that serves the needs of the Indo-American business community in Houston. We create a platform where businesses can come together to become aware of each other, identify business opportunities and educate our members on local and international issues that affect their business. This year's focus is going to be on the Energy and Education sectors. On the Energy front, the Chamber will start the creation of an ecosystem that will be needed to serve the business opportunities for the US and India in the years to come. With shale gas reserves tapped in the US, it will become a net exporter of gas in this decade. India's gas needs continue to grow and it will need the US to supply this gas. India is not a part of the Free Trade Agreement (FTA) yet. The Government of India is working to establish its relationship with the US government to get access to the future US gas reserves. We are collaborating with other local Indo-American organizations such as the Indo-American Political Action Committee (IAPAC) of Houston. Their focus is political and they are working with Congressmen and Senators to make this a success. I am sure that with these efforts, gas exports from US to India will occur. This will create tremendous opportunities for jobs and businesses to provide all kinds of services. India has a significant need for gas with regards to the burgeoning population, infrastructure, and the economy. The Chamber is working to identify and establish this ecosystem to make it work at different levels. Almost all the major Oil & Gas companies that are headquartered in Houston have a presence in India or a business relationship in India. We, the Chamber, would like to assist in creating better and more business opportunities on both sides.

In your opinion, how effective has the Chamber been and how does it impact the role of the Indo American community in Houston?

The Chamber has been very effective and plays a crucial role in the community. It was the first Chamber of its kind in the south and continues to be a strong and respected organization in the Indo-American community in the south region of the country. Its strength is in its membership. We have a breadth of members, from individuals who work as consultants, small proprietorship, to large global companies. We provide value across the board whether it is in assisting individual or small businesses in establishing themselves as a minority business, or navigating to the appropriate contact in the county or city government, to taking government and business delegations to India. We do it all. We also work with other Chambers to identify and bring their business opportunities to our community.

How did BMC's CEO Robert Beauchamp get to be a part of the Chamber?

Bob was invited in 2001 to join the Advisory Board of IACCGH by Durga Agrawal, and the then Consul General of India to Houston, Rinzing Wangdi. Bob has been an advisor to the chamber ever since.

How about education, your other initiative?

There is a shift that's taking place in India. India's agricultural sector is now highly productive and self-sufficient. Because of this, young people are moving out of the rural areas to the cities for better opportunities, but can't afford expensive academic training. They need vocational training, somewhere between six months to one year on a vocation. The Houston Community College (HCC) is a local institution that is a leader in such training and I believe the time is right for HCC to establish a presence in India. They already have a presence in Vietnam and Qatar.

I believe the Chamber facilitated a collaborative endeavor between MD Anderson Cancer Institute and the Tata Cancer Institute?

The joint initiative between MDACC and TCI was signed in 2003 as a joint research program between the two organizations. Doctors have been going back and forth from both institutes in a climate of exchanging ideas, sharing knowledge and researching new treatment.

What other significant collaborations have IACCGH engendered?

In 2007 an IACCGH delegation, which included Judge Ed Emmett, visited India and met with Anand Mahindra, Managing Director at Mahindra and Mahindra and convinced him to set up a company in Texas. Anand Mahindra was so convinced in that meeting, that M & M setup their US headquarters in Harris County the following year.

One year is too short to accomplish all you've set out to do. How do you ensure continuance?

The President Elect of IACCGH for 2014 Sanjay Ramabhadran and the Board of Directors share my vision. I am assured it will be carried forward at least to the end of 2014.

The last quarter's quiz: Try writing the numbers (0 to 10) using EXACTLY four 4's for each number, together with operation signs.

As an example, $(4 \times 4) - (4 \times 4) = 0$

The Answer:

$$0 = (4 + 4 - 4 - 4)$$

$$1 = (4 + 4 - 4) / 4$$

$$2 = (4/4) + (4/4)$$

$$3 = (4 + 4 + 4) / 4$$

$$4 = 4 - \sqrt{4} + 4 - \sqrt{4}$$

$$5 = 4/4 + \sqrt{4} + \sqrt{4}$$

$$6 = 4 + \sqrt{4} + 4 - 4$$

$$7 = 4 \times \sqrt{4} - 4/4$$

$$8 = 4 + 4 + 4 - 4$$

$$9 = 4/4 + 4 + 4$$

$$10 = 4 + 4 + 4 - \sqrt{4} \text{ or } (44-4)/4$$

The following gave the right answers:

Govind Kamath, Austin, TX

Shivdev Ubhaykar, Rancho Pales Verdes, CA

Sreesh S. Shenoy, Spring, TX

Vindya Bhat, Atlanta, GA

Sridharan Raman, Atlanta, GA

KONKANI YOUTH CONVENTION | 2013

LOS | ANGELES

Hi Vasanthmam,

Here is a quick update for the 2013 Konkani Youth Convention.

Our registration numbers have begun to pick up as the date approaches which is a positive sign. We've booked all of the venues and everything is in place for us to have a very fun and exciting weekend. We've been reaching out to the parents of the Konkani youth so they can encourage their kids to register and attend because this is definitely a very helpful resource for everyone in terms of making new friendships, relationships, and helping enhance their professional network. We're really striving to give people a very in depth look at Konkani culture from the perspective of those who are 2nd or 3rd generation.

As I've stated before, this is not just supporting a one time event, this is ensuring that future youth conventions have the chance to gain the same success and momentum that past ones have, and that this tradition does not end.

Please feel free to make a tax-free donation to help ensure the success of this convention and futures ones on our Indieogo page at - <http://igg.me/at/kyc2013la1/x/1020653>

All we can ask from everyone is to encourage their kids to sign up and enjoy a wonderful weekend in Los Angeles.

Thank you,

Amar Bhakta

It is our mission to fund and assist orphanages and old age homes in India, provide educational scholarships, and organize health camps and food drives for needy and deserving Konkani in India. Without the assistance of community-minded individuals just like you, we wouldn't be able to serve those in our community. We hope that you will be able to contribute in one or more of the many charitable causes and experience firsthand the pride in supporting these noble causes.

During the year of 2012, Konkani Charitable Fund made big strides in donations received and contributions made. More than 50 donations were received during the year amounting to more than $200,000. Many donations received have been distributed in early part of 2013. The most notable aspect of KCF is that we have been able to achieve this success with zero administrative cost to the donors. The directors made the commitment to send 100 percent of the donations to the designated charitable cause. 100 percent of the administrative cost is offset by the funds donated by the directors for that specific purpose. We look forward to similar continued growth in 2013.

Our story . . .

Being a citizen in a multicultural world requires a knowledge of history, from the personal to the global. But young Konkans born and raised in the United States may be unfamiliar with the legends and customs of their Indian heritage, as well as with the story of the exile and dispersal of their ancestors from Goa beginning in the sixteenth century. For them, this true story of one family within the larger story of history will bring to life the language and community traditions of a culture they will want to get to know. Their guide in this engrossing tale, told with humor and compassion and packed with universal truths, is a man with roots in both the traditional Konkani world and the modern American world.

Mulki Radhakrishna Bhat, a Konkani from Udupi on the west coast of Karnataka, grew up in India as part of a large, close family with rich cultural traditions. He immigrated to the United States as a young adult, navigated its very different cultural traditions, and had a long career as a nuclear physicist. He and his wife, Padma, who live on Long Island in New York, have one son, whose questions inspired him to tell the story of several generations of his family within the context of the India diaspora.
